CAUSE NO. 2003-67714

IN THE INTEREST OF	§	IN THE DISTRICT COURT
	§
BRISA NICOLE GAWLIKOWSKI	§	247 JUDICIAL DISTRICT
A CHILD	§	HARRIS COUNTY, TEXAS

MOTION TO QUASH AND, IN THE ALTERNATIVE, MOTION FOR PROTECTION AND REQUEST FOR ATTORNEY FEES AND SANCTIONS

This Motion for Quash, and In the Alternative, Motion for Protection is brought by WENDY S. BURGOWER, Court Appointed Amicus Attorney, who shows in support:

I.

On or about March 31, 2010, Movant was served with a Subpoena (attached hereto and incorporated by reference as Exhibit "A", and referred to in this Motion as the "Subpoena"), by Dan Gawlikowski, wherein he requests that Movant appear and produce and permit inspection and copying of the following records: "all emails sent to the Judge Bonnie Hellums on October 22, 2009 by Wendy Burgower related to Cause No. 2003-67714." The subpoena orders that Ms. Burgower comply with the Subpoena to produce the documents on April 1, 2010 and to be a witness in the case (this case) at the Project Court, Room 20038 at 9:00 am.

II.

Movant requests that the Court quash the Subpoena directing Movant to appear as a witness and produce and permit inspection and copying of documents, for several reasons, including the fact that she is the Amicus Attorney and cannot be compelled to testify as a witness pursuant to the Texas Family Code, Section 107.007. The Statute is clear: An Amicus Attorney may not be "...compelled to produce attorney work product developed during the appointment as an attorney; ... testify in Court except as authorized by Rule 3.08, Texas Disciplinary Rules of Professional Conduct..." (Family code 107.007(a)(1) and (a)(4). Additionally, the case is currently pending in the First Court of Appeals and therefore a stay is in place. Mr. Gawlikowski may not pursue any action in the trial court at this time.

III.

Movant further objects to the production of the requested documents for the following reasons:

a. The subpoena calls for Movant's work product that is protected by Section 107.007 of the TEXAS FAMILY CODE, which states: "(a) An attorney ad litem, an attorney serving in the dual role, or an amicus attorney may not: (1) be compelled to produce attorney work product developed during the appointment as an attorney...."

b. During a hearing on February 11, 2010 in this matter, Movant confirmed that she sent one single email to the Court on October 22, 2009. Movant stated the email was procedural in nature and that the communication pertained to the need for an order to be signed by the Court. At that same hearing, the Court confirmed, on the record, that Movant had not improperly communicated with the Court on October 22, 2009 or at any time during the time Movant has served as the Amicus Attorney. Movant believes she had the authority to send the email at issue under the current Amicus statutes and case law. Section 107.001 of the TEXAS FAMILY CODE defines "Amicus Attorney" as "an attorney appointed by the court in a suit, other than a suit filed by a governmental entity, whose role is to provide legal services necessary to assist the court in protecting a child's best interests rather than to provide legal services to the child." Additionally, the First Court of Appeals stated in O'Connor v. O'Connor, 245 S.W.3d 511, 515 (Tex. App. –Houston [1st Dist.] 2007, no pet.), that "the trial court is, in effect, the amicus attorney's client for a limited purpose." Furthermore, Section 107.003(1)(g) of the TEXAS FAMILY CODE states that an amicus attorney appointed to assist the court shall "take any action consistent with the child's interest that the attorney considers necessary to expedite the proceedings." Movant believes that sending the email to the Court was absolutely imperative in fulfilling her role as the Amicus Attorney and that the action was consistent with the child's interest and necessary to expedite the proceedings. Therefore, Movant will produce the email under seal to the Court for the Court's review. If the Court feels Daniel Gawlikowski or any other party or attorney is entitled to inspect said email, then the Court may disseminate the email in the manner the Court so desires.

c. Movant believes her email communication to the Court was not only appropriate, but necessary. However, Movant refuses to set a precedent that Movant will produce documents from her file to the parties or the attorneys in this case upon their request or demand.

d. Movant further shows that she cannot be compelled to testify at the hearing in accordance with the Family Code as earlier stated.

e. The discovery request is unreasonably frivolous, oppressive, or harassing in that during that same hearing on February 11, 2010 it is on the record that Daniel Gawlikowski has filed several grievances against Movant, at least one of which is still pending. Daniel Gawlikowski's attorney of record, Walter P. Mahoney, stated in correspondence to Movant and the other attorneys of record in this case on February 12, 2010 that his serving the subpoena was to obtain "[the] information for the purpose of the Appeal," but Movant sincerely believes the subpoena is merely another tactic to obtain material for Daniel Gawlikowski's pending grievances against Movant. There is no issue in the alleged appeal that would in any way use or need any communications between the Amicus and others.

IV.

In the alternative and without waiving the forgoing, Movant requests this Court to issue an order of protection and find that no subpoena demanding documents may be issued to the amicus, and in the event any documents be tendered from the Amicus's file that said documents be sealed and filed with this Court and only opened by the Court upon a proper showing of just cause and after a full hearing on the matter.

V.

This Subpoena was filed in bad faith. The attorney of record, Walter Mahoney, is an attorney who is Board Certified in Family Law. Mr. Mahoney is aware of the statute that prohibits the filing and service of the subpoena. He is the attorney in charge of the case and should be responsible for the filings of motions and subpoenas. Furthermore, this is the second time a subpoena has been served requesting the same work product. Once again, the undersigned must respond. Attorney fees be awarded to the undersigned as well as appropriate sanctions rendered against Mr. Mahoney. The purpose of the filing is to intimidate and cause more expense to Wendy S. Burgower.

PRAYER

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Movant requests that the Court quash the above-described subpoena, and for such other and further relief that may be awarded at law or in equity, including attorney fees and sanctions.

Respectfully submitted,
